7pm-9pm Parents and community Groups, 31st October 2017

Address: 53 Northorpe Lane, Mirfield, WF14 0QL

The Kirklees Multi-Agency Autistic Spectrum Condition Assessment Team, in partnership with other agencies, will be holding a number of interactive engagement sessions about the recent changes to the autism service in Kirklees.

- We are committed to reducing waiting times for autism assessment
- We are committed to improving and supporting ongoing communication and engagement
- We are committed to transforming the service

These sessions will provide information and offer the opportunity to ask questions. We will share the new pathway, explain our vision for the next 12 months, listen to your experiences what might be helpful for children. Most importantly we need to hear from you what might be helpful for young people and families who are waiting for an autism assessment in Kirklees.

We will be briefly discussing the referral and screening process and changes that are occurring in the next 12 months. We would then like to spend time offering support and guidance on what might be helpful whilst children are waiting to be assessed, considering language and communication, social interaction and behaviours linked to autism. We will also be seeking feedback on how the service can be developed.
